APPOINTMENT ANNOUNCEMENT

James R. Wells, Executive Officer for the Public Employees' Benefits Program (PEBP) is pleased to announce the appointment of Roger Rahming as Chief Financial Officer (CFO) for the program effective February 6, 2012.

Mr. Rahming holds a Bachelors of Art (BA) degree from University of Nevada, Reno and a Masters of Business Administration (MBA) with an emphasis in Finance and Human Resources from Northern Arizona University.

He comes to PEBP from the Department of Education where he is currently the Director of Finance and Planning. Mr. Rahming has spent the majority of his career in private sector, first in the banking industry as Vice President of Financial Planning and Analysis and later as co-owner of a market research consulting firm.

Mr. Rahming has an extensive background in finance, strategic planning, and project management. His experience in research and financial data analytics will enhance the strategic planning decisions for the program.

The CFO reports directly to the Executive Officer and is a key member of PEBP's Executive Management team. The CFO is responsible for the budget and financial management of PEBP and for overseeing the annual rate setting process.

PEBP, an agency of the State of Nevada, administers health insurance benefits for over 23,500 active State employees, 8,600 State retirees, 250 non-state active employees and 8,600 non-state retirees as well as their dependents.
